

#FlintWaterCrisis - What's Now? What Next?

ABFE Hosts a Pop-up Webinar TODAY!

Thursday, March 17th | 2:00 - 3:30 p.m. EST

There has been a global response to the man-made disaster in Flint. Residents, journalists, celebrities and even presidential candidates have raised their voices, resources and prayers for the people of Flint. A recent community & star-studded telethon, called #JusticeForFlint, raised thousands of dollars and increased awareness about this tragedy. For months, untold bottles of water have been shipped to Flint, providing residents access to clean drinking water.

Yet, government entities (state & federal) are still inching along in implementing the critical steps needed to get clean and safe water flowing through the cities pipes. Imagine if this were your community--what would you do? What would you expect others to do? Some are calling the Flint water crisis the canary in the nation's infrastructure coal mine.

You are invited to attend this webinar and hear from key players, who are investing countless hours and resources to make things right for the people of Flint. You will also learn more about how you can help.
